Adult Education Transitions to College Program (TCP)

About Transitions to College Program

The Transitions to College Program at Bunker Hill Community College (BHCC) enables students from adult education programs to enroll in college level courses and learn the essential skills needed to be successful students. TCP helps each student develop an education and career plan. TCP students will earn nine to fifteen college credits that will apply to a college program of study. These classes are offered at no cost (tuition, fees, and books) to the student.

The Transitions to College Program at BHCC has been funded by a grant from the Massachusetts Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (DESE) since 2000. BHCC provides the funding for tuition and fees and the funding for textbooks is provided by the grant.

Why TCP?

The program

Teaches academic excellence.

TCP follows student progress to make sure they are completing their classes and checking in on students' performance. TCP students take a humanities class together. This fosters a sense of being in a learning community, where students can grow together, create connections and see each other as sources of support and information.

Cares and supports the whole student.

The TCP Program connects students to the many academic support programs and resources on campus. Students are exposed to the Tutoring and Academic Support Center (TASC), the library, computer labs, LifeMap, and student activities and clubs.

Prepares students for their future.

TCP gives students a foundation to complete their degree, go on to a 4 year college, or enter directly into the workforce. The TCP also can connect students with trainings offered by Bunker Hill that focus on the current labor market.
