EARLY CHILDHOOD DEVELOPMENT INSTITUTE

The Department of Early Childhood, Education and Human Services at Bunker Hill Community College has created the Early Childhood Development Institute to offer non-credit modules of training for staff currently employed in early care and education programs. These non-credit courses will advance participants' knowledge and skill development beyond the traditional beginning courses to cover more advanced areas of training. These advanced areas will allow staff to expand their knowledge to deeper levels of understanding, helping to push programs in early childhood and their staff to a higher quality of care for children and families in the Greater Boston area.

Administration and Supervision in ECE Programs

The director of an early care and education program is the key to quality programming for children and to a satisfying work environment for teachers. Often supervising staff is very challenging, requiring many specialized skills. These modules provide both new and more experienced directors with up-to-date methods to motivate staff and support teachers to feel satisfied in their work. Course prerequisite: students must have taken Child Care Administration (ECE113) or an equivalent course prior to registering for any modules in this course. Those students who successfully complete all four modules will be able to petition the Prior Learning Assessment Program at BHCC for 3 college credits for Supervision in ECE (ECE115). ECE-115 may be used as one of the three career electives required in the A.S. degree program in Early Childhood Development and can also be used as Director II credit for DEEC certification.

Supervision for Team Building $110
ECI-306

Early care and education teachers must work closely with each other to meet the demanding needs of young children. Learn ways to build teams from diverse groups of teachers and help them work smoothly together toward shared goals. Early care and education teachers have to serve the needs of many: children, parents, other teachers and staff, and supervisors. Yet, these caring people are often uncomfortable with conflict and handle the demands of conflict resolution poorly, causing more problems than are solved. This module will provide real ways to tackle these problems and build stronger teams through positive conflict resolution. Students must have successfully completed Child Care Administration (ECE113) prior to registering for this course.

Work in a child care program is necessary; moreover, students must be working in a program that will allow the coaching to occur. Successful completion of the course will require a set of assignments to allow student to practice and show evidence of learning. Students must have successfully completed ECI-306, -307, and -308 prior to registering in this course.
